

An aerial photograph of a wide, muddy-brown river winding through a vast, dense green Amazon rainforest. The river forms a large loop in the center of the frame. The sky is filled with heavy, grey clouds, suggesting an overcast day. The overall scene is a stark contrast between the natural beauty of the forest and the potential threat implied by the text.

amazon va bien,

l'Amazonie moins!